McLeod Health wants to assist students in attaining their healthcare career goals. The purpose of the McLeod Health Scholarship Program is to provide financial assistance to students who have been accepted into an approved program of study in an identified healthcare employment area of need.

The scholarships available are for tuition only with amounts varying with respect to the area of study. We are recruiting motivated students whose core values align with those of McLeod to work at one of our eight locations following the completion of their academic program.

How to Apply

1. Please visit mcleodscholarship.smapply.org to apply.
2. All requested information must be submitted to receive scholarship consideration.
3. The McLeod Scholarship Coordinator will arrange a personal interview with a McLeod Health representative once all criteria have been met following the application deadline.
4. If approved, the scholarship recipient will receive an agreement and promissory note to sign and the school will be notified of the award.
5. The student will ensure that there is a completed FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act) form on file with the school so that McLeod can be invoiced. The Scholarship Award money will begin the upcoming semester.

What Happens Upon Completion?

The scholarship recipient will apply for full-time employment with McLeod, at any of our campuses, in the area in which they were educated. If they are hired for employment with the organization, McLeod will forgive the scholarship at a set rate each month in which they work for McLeod Health. All McLeod Health scholarships require a work-off commitment. This commitment does not constitute a contract of employment and employment would be at will.

Receiving the scholarship does not automatically qualify a person for employment at McLeod Health. If the scholarship recipient is not offered or declines employment with McLeod Health within 90 days of graduation, the scholarship status will be in default.
